REMOVAL.—The headquarters of the Governor of the Commonwealth, the Secretary of State, and the Adjutant-General, are removed to No. 437 Walnut street, between Fourth and Fifth streets.

ANOTHER SOLDIER KILLED.—Yesterday, about 11 o'clock A. M., Edward Neal, a member of the Fourth Pennsylvania Cavalry, was killed by Alonzo Noble, wagon master of the Sixteenth Kentucky Regiment, at the boarding-house of Mr. G. G. Knappner, on Market street, below Third, where the parties were boarding. It appears that on Friday morning, when the noble was charged with a difficulty, which difficulty, we believe, was settled without blows. Yesterday it was repeated, when Noble struck him with his fist, Neal falling with his face against a curb on the pavement in the back yard, inflicting a deep gash over the left eye. The unfortunate man lived but a few minutes. Noble immediately gave himself up, and was put in jail. Neal, we learn, is a single man, and it was his intention to leave for his father's home in Pennsylvania, on far enough. There are several versions of the affair, but we give the most reliable that could be obtained.

POLICE PROCEEDINGS.—Saturday, Sept. 20. There was but little business done in this Court this morning. A few peace warrants and ordinance warrants were disposed of and continued.

Robt. F. Baird moved the Court to appoint a committee of three to call on Gen. Boyle and request him to open the new closed coffee-house. Robt. F. Baird, A. Mass, and A. H. McKay constitute the committee.

WE learn that for the past few days a lot of cavalrymen have been visiting grocery stores, grog shops, &c., up on the Point, and using insulting language to Indians, and making all kinds of threats. We hope that the officers in command will put a stop to such outrages, by keeping their men in camp until they know right from wrong.

A pistol was accidentally discharged, yesterday afternoon, in the Phenix Restaurant, the ball passing out through a double show-case, and entering the National Hotel. Fortunately, no one was hurt, though a great many persons were in the vicinity of where the ball lodged.

CAMPBELL MINISTERS.—This old, well-known, and popular company, will open with a series of their splendid entertainments to-morrow night, in the Masonic Temple. We learn that a part of the Ramsey & Newcomb troupe are with them.

THE McClellan Rifles meet at their armory, on Jefferson street, between Hancock and Clay, to-morrow (Monday) night, at half-past seven o'clock. Good, loyal citizens, wishing to join this company, will please take notice.

BRICKKILLER'S NEPHEW.—A nephew of Brickkiller has enlisted in the Eleventh Illinois. He expressed the amiable hope that a bullet shot from his rifle should lay his traitor uncle low.

A cart loaded with coal broke down on the corner of Fourth and Green streets yesterday morning. A mule was caught under the shafts, but was rescued without injuring his mule.

The steam fire engine Sim. Watkins was out at the corner of Fourth and Jefferson streets, yesterday morning, on a trial. The engine worked like a charm.

A soldier pitched into a German grocery keeper near the Preston-street Market, yesterday morning, but was "immediately repulsed" as a signal.

Miles' loss, before the surrender of Harper's Ferry, was killed 48, and wounded about 150.

There will be services at the usual hour, in the Brook street M. E. Church, this morning, by the Rev. Mr. Lynn.

The Latest News from Munfordville.

An intelligent gentleman, a sutler to an Indiana regiment, who left Munfordville on Thursday, got to our city last evening. He confirms the news of the surrender on Wednesday morning. During Tuesday night the rebels crossed the river in large force, and planted their artillery at all points to command our works. It was apparent to all that further resistance was useless. The overwhelming numbers of the enemy compelled our gallant little army to succumb. On Wednesday the men were paroled, and marched out four miles south on the Bowlinggreen turnpike. They were stopped at this point, and four days rations given them, when they were ordered to leave. Our informant was not required to give his parole, being a sutler and non-combatant. He came on as fast as he could, and reached the city last evening, taking rather a circuitous journey. He states that our prisoners were kindly treated, and that they conversed freely with the rebels on the field. There was a general swapping of cannon and cracking of jokes. He reports that the rebel force was very large—from fifty to fifty thousand. That General Bragg was Commander-in-Chief, and that he saw Buckner, Hardee, Bushrod Johnson, Cheatham and others. Our account yesterday morning was mainly correct. He says that the rebels admit a loss of five hundred killed on Sunday. The losses of Tuesday are not known.

INQUEST No. 8.—Held on Jefferson street, between Second and Third streets, on the body of William Howard, aged forty years, a native of Estel county, Kentucky. Verdict—"Came to his death by a visitation of Providence and not otherwise."

JAMES C. GILL, Coroner, J. C. A. INQUEST No. 9.—Held at a house on Green street, between Shelby and Campbell streets, on the body of Jacob Boney, 6th Ky. cavalry. Verdict—"Came to his death by two gunshot wounds inflicted by two men dressed in the uniform of United States Infantry. Names not known."

JAMES C. GILL, Coroner, J. C. A. INQUEST No. 10.—Held at the house of George Knappner, on Market street, between Third and Fourth streets, on the body of Edward Neal, a member of the 9th Pa. cavalry. Verdict—"Came to his death from sudden concussion of the brain, caused by a blow of the fist or foot of Alonzo Noble."

JAMES C. GILL, Coroner, J. C. A. THE theater was crowded to overflowing last night. As Nell Gwynne, Miss Mary Provost is certainly the finest artist now extant. She has consented to remain six nights more, and will appear to-morrow night in two splendid pieces—Iolanthe, in the beautiful lyric drama of "King Rene's Daughter," and as Andy, in the Irish drama of "Andy Blake." In both these characters, Miss Provost has no superior. The performances will conclude with the musical farce of "Maid with the Milking Pail." The house will be jammed, as this is a splendid evening's entertainment—one that will attract the presence of all lovers of fine performances.

DESTRUCTION OF PROPERTY.—Before day-break, Friday morning, a large crowd, composed principally of Irish and negro women, assembled at the corner of Seventh and Sycamore streets, Cincinnati, and completed the destruction of the row of frame buildings which has been the scene of so many outbreaks of the "irrepressible conflict." The Gazette says that an attempt had been made the day previous to fire the dwellings, but owing to the promptness of Fire Company No. 4, it proved ineffectual. The crowd began to assemble a little after one o'clock, and by half-past two the work was going on in good earnest. By daylight nothing was left but four chimneys, all the wood-work having been carried off by the destroyers for firewood.

THE train from Bardonia arrived last evening as usual, and reported all quiet along the road. We learn that a squad of rebel cavalry passed through that place yesterday forenoon, on their way (as they said) to Lexington. They also reported to the citizens that a large rebel force of cavalry and infantry were behind them en route for the same place.

HORSE STOLEN.—Yesterday some soldier, walking up Market street, above Campbell, jumped on a fine horse belonging to an old farmer, and rode him off to camp. He thinks the soldier belonged to Col. Munford's regiment, and is very anxious that his horse should be returned to him.

DECEASED SOLDIERS.—The following is the list of the names of soldiers who died in general hospital in this city during the week ending September 19th, 1862:

Sept. 19th—Levi K. Homan, Co. B, 12th Indiana.
19th—J. Walker, Co. A, 9th Ohio.
19th—J. H. Brown, Co. B, 10th Ohio.
19th—J. W. Nicholas, Co. B, 9th Ohio.
19th—J. H. Brown, Co. B, 10th Ohio.
19th—J. W. Nicholas, Co. B, 9th Ohio.

WONDERFUL.—The New York Evening Post tells a large story of the freaks of lightning in France. A young girl was struck by lightning and changed to a boy. The very thing wanted in this vicinity. Our women are anxious to enlist, but under existing circumstances the Government will not receive them. Pass that lightning round, and let's have the objection removed.

NARY RED.—A move is on foot to raise money to send missionaries to the rebels. We object to it. Not half as many of them go to the devil as ought to.—New Albany Ledger.

LITTLE Mac and Sigel are sending them with moderate charges.

OFFICER Junot arrested a free negro woman, named Francis Scott, yesterday, and put her in jail. She had been stealing wearing apparel from another "lady of color."

HARPER'S MONTHLY.—Wrote indebted to L. A. Civil, for the October number of Harper's Monthly. It is one of the best numbers of that very popular series.

TAKE NOTICE.—We call the attention of our readers to the order of Acting Brig. General Gray, in reference to enlistments and exemptions.

Captain William Fagan and his gallant company, have been mustered into service. They are an efficient corps, and the captain is a trump.

Capt. D. A. Wolf wants forty more men for the 86th Kentucky regiment mounted infantry. See his advertisement in another column.

Gen. Miles was killed about one hour and a half after the surrender, by a shell from the Maryland heights.

Scott Gore, the news agent, favors us with late illustrated papers.

By command Acting Brigadier General Gray. J. M. SIMPLE, A. A. G.

WE hear of a gallant exploit on the part of a small band of Union soldiers, at Falmouth, Ky. Col. W. Berry, of the Harrison county Home Guards, accompanied by eleven men, entered the town of Falmouth, on the Kentucky Central Railroad, on Thursday, and drove off the rebel force which had congregated there, killing five and wounding a considerable number.

The rebels succeeded, however, in burning the railroad bridge at Falmouth before leaving.

At last accounts, Col. Berry, with his gallant little band, still held the place. He was momentarily expecting re-enforcements, when it was thought he would push on after the enemy. If we had a few more such intrepid men as Col. Berry, Kentucky would soon be cleared of every rebel soldier within her border.

Since writing the foregoing, we have seen a letter from Col. Berry to William Trimble, Esq., which furnishes further details of the brilliant affair. It appears that when Col. Berry's party entered Falmouth, there were no rebel soldiers there, but twenty-eight shortly made their appearance and immediately made an attack on them. The battle was a very sharp one, and for a while two of the enemy were killed, four wounded, and one taken prisoner, when the remainder retreated, threatening to return soon with a cannon and blow down the hospital.

Colonel Berry's men occupied the place, and Col. W. examined his cartridges, and finding their stock pretty low, deemed it advisable to stalk back four miles, which he accordingly did. The prisoner who was captured was brought to Gen. Smith's headquarters in this city yesterday.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF KENTUCKY, Louisville, Sept. 19, 1862.

General Order No. 13.

The following paragraphs from "General Order No. 107," published by General Halleck, General-in-Chief of the armies of the United States, are hereby ordered to be strictly obeyed. Commanders of divisions, brigades, regiments and detachments will be held responsible for their respective commands.

By command of Maj. Gen. Nelson. J. E. STACEY, A. A. G.

3. The laws of the United States and the general laws of war authorize, in certain cases, the seizure and conversion of private property for the subsistence, transportation, and other uses of the army; but this must be distinguished from pillage, which is the taking of property for private purposes.

All property lawfully taken from the enemy, or from the inhabitants of the enemy's country, must be accounted for as such. The 52d article of war authorizes the penalty of death for pillaging and plundering, and other articles authorize re-enforcement for any officers or soldiers who shall sell, embezzle, misapply, or waste military stores, or who shall permit the waste or misapplication of any such public property. The penalty is the same whether committed in our own or in the enemy's territory.

4. All property, public or private, taken from alleged enemies, must be inventoried and duly accounted for. If the property taken be claimed as private, receipts must be given to the owners, and the property must be returned to them. Officers will be held strictly accountable for all property taken by them or their authority, and it must be returned for the same as any other public property.

5. When property is taken for public use, or for provisions or other stores, the commanding officer of such party will be held accountable for the conduct of his command, and will make a true report of all property taken.

6. No officer or soldier will, without authority, leave his colors or ranks to take private property or to enter a private house for the purpose. All such acts are punishable with death, and an officer guilty thereof is equally as guilty as the actual pillager.

7. Commanding officers of armies and corps will be held responsible for the execution of these orders in their respective commands.

By command of Maj. Gen. Halleck, General-in-Chief of the Army. E. D. TOWNSEND, Assistant Adj. Gen.

Mounted Infantry. THIRTY-EIGHTH REGIMENT KENTUCKY VOLUNTEERS.
